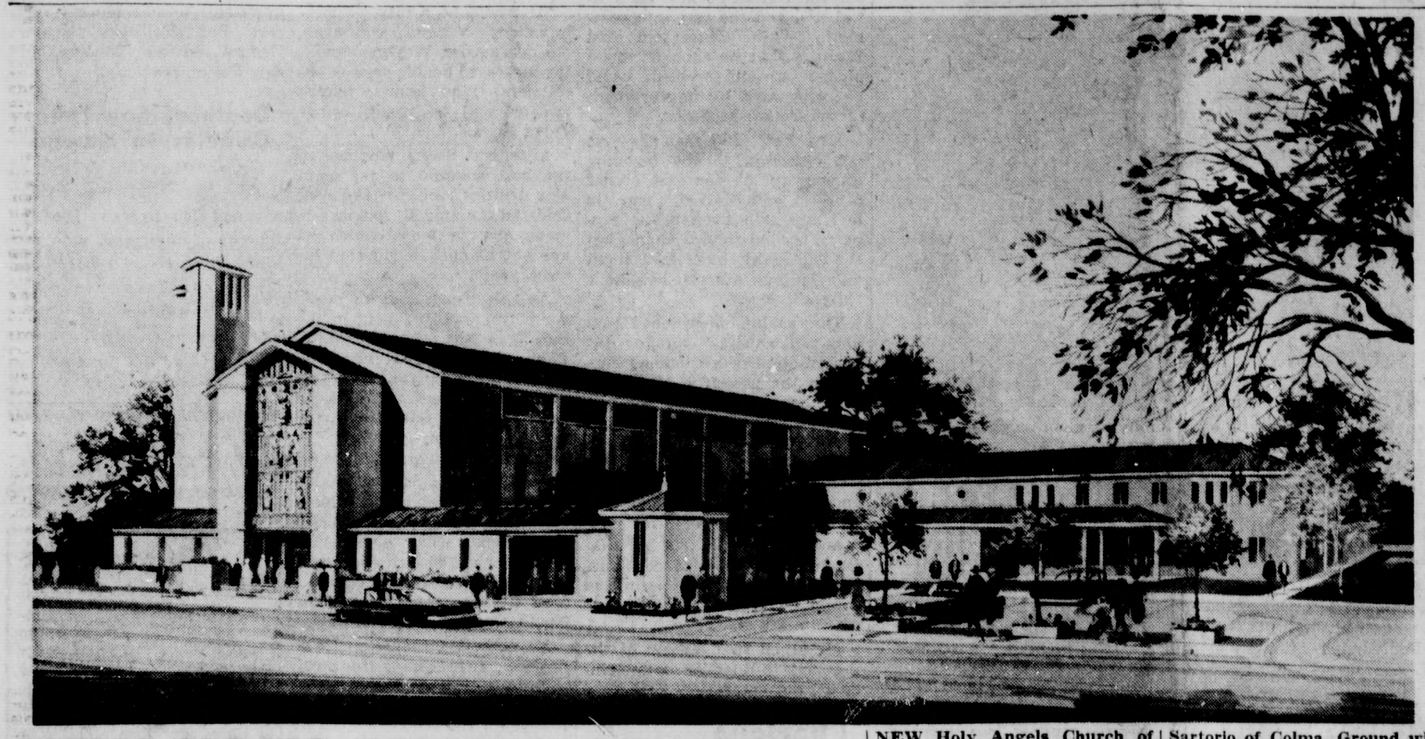
JUHS TRUSTEES REJECT UNIFICATION BID



NEW Holy Angels Church of Colma will look like this when it is completed by approximately next Easter, acording to the above drawing of Architect Angus McSweeney of San Francisco. Building will cost $451,000, and the contractor is Peter Sartorio of Colma. Ground will probobly be broken this week on the structure, which will also include a rectory. The present church building will be converted into a multi-purpose hall. New church will be built to the left of the present one.

NEW HOLY ANGELS CHURCH TO BE BUILT FOR $451,000

Construction of a new $451,000 Holy Angels Church and rectory in Colma is scheduled to begin this week with simple ground-breaking ceremonies, with completion date spearheaded in time to hold Easter services in its sanctuary.

Peter Sartorio, Colma general contractor, has been awarded a contract to do the work. His bid was the lowest of nine submitted. Angus McSweeney, a San Francisco architect, has designed plans for the church and rectory.

The new church and rectory will be constructed on a site to the left of the present church, which is located at 107 San Pedro road. The ground the church will be built on is already church property.

Once the new church is ready for use, the present church will be converted into a multi-purpose hall, and the present rectory will be demolished to make way for additional parking space.

The new church will seat 1,000 persons, and will be built of reinforced concrete masonry units over a steel frame spanning the 50-foot wide nave. Some 800 persons will be able to be seated in the nave with 200 in the transept at right angles to the main altar.

Opposite the transept and to the left of the altar will be the Lady chapel completely enclosed with soundproof glass, which will make it usable as a "crying room" for mothers and babies or private devotions.

The rectory will contain suites for three priests and guest accomodations. Offices, conference rooms, the pastor's suite, and the kitchen and dining facilities comprise the first floor area. The second floor is made up of suites for the assistant pastors and guest rooms.

The building, conservative-contemporary in style, is reminiscent of the Spanish Renaissance period of architect with its sculptured stone entrance facade and tile roofs. The interior will be embellished with cast ornamental plaster, mosaic stations of the cross and a 40-foot high mosaic reredos setting off the marble star. The sanctuary floor will be of marble surrounded by stone steps, with terrazzo floors in the remainder of the building.

The tower, 86 feet above street level should be visible from a great distance and will become a landmark for the area.

The present church stands on land donated to Archbishop Alemany in 1867 by Peter Dunks, a Colma resident. The chourch was built in 1868 and named St. Anne's in honor of Dunk's daughter, Anne. It was a mission of San Mateo until 1899. The tower was built in 1892, and two small wings were added and the name was changed in 1914.

A fire in 1955 caused considerable damage, but it did not destroy the original structure.

Will Support County Group; Consider Complications Of Utilities At Terra Nova High

Rejection of the Laguna Salada School District proposal to initiate a north county study for unification of six school districts, and new utilities complications at the Terra Nova project were major issues at the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees meeting Monday night in the Westlake building.

Dispelling high speculation during the past week for a new unification study in north San Mateo County, the Jefferson High Board reacted to initial responses from the other five school districts:

1. By rejecting the Laguna Salada School District suggestion to commence a study for possible unification of districts in north county.

And (2) by throwing its weight behind the currently functioning San Mateo County Committee on School District Reorganization, which has been authorized by the State Legislature.

Proposed unification initially was asked by the Laguna Salada Board of Trustees in a letter on May 8.

The letter recognized the county committee but felt the Salada board was not "adequately prepared to objectively assess the advantages or disadvantages of any proposal" which possibly would be made by the committee, and asked Jefferson High to initiate a separate study.

In response to this proposal, Jefferson High's Trustees authorized District Superintendent Edward Morgan to seek views of the other districts involved in the proposed unification, namely Jefferson Elementary, Laguna Salada, Bayshore, Brisbane, and South San Francisco Unified.

According to Morgan, Jefferson Elementary School District offered full cooperation, but Bayshore was "not interested" on the basis of a telephone poll of its board members. Brisbane responded with three main points and a conclusion:

1. That a study three years ago on such a unification determined the proposal "not possible" at the time;

2. That the state is currently responsible to study the problem and come up with definite recommendations by 1963, and that this committee now functioning is in the best position for an unbiased view;

3. And that a study should be made in cooperation with the county committee (state authorized).

However, Brisbane concluded that it would certainly cooperate in any way in the near future with Jefferson Union High School District over the question of the study.

After considerable discussion, the Jefferson Union High School Board approved Morgan to roughdraft a reply to Laguna Salada District Superintendent Frederick E. Lucas and present it at the next Jefferson High board meeting June 12. The letter would emphasize:

"We are in accord that unification is a good idea but that two committees (the state-approved county committee and its newly-created citizen's lay committee of 35 members) exist for the purpose of studying unification. Our task should be to assist the county committee on district unification or redistricting."

Such assistance, Superintendent Morgan affirmed later, probably would be a recommendation for concerned individuals to work with the county committee and its citizen lay board. Also it was felt such a study to be highly involved and perhaps too costly for individual high school districts to conduct.

Meanwhile new complications on connecting utility lines to the Terra Nova building project were brought out by architect Corwin Booth, Falk & Booth of San Francisco.

Booth explained that the general home contractor Andrew Oddstad, whose subdivision lands surround Terra Nova project, was hesitant to grade "plot No. 26" because it was considered as a future development plot. This plot stands between utility lines on the top of the hill and the school project.

Additionally, the North Coast Water District reversed its May 8 agreement to an eight-inch water pipe and now has ascertained a ten-inch main is needed at the new school project, both for the school and estimated tract homes to be built by Oddstad.

And, the current two-inch water pipe presently supplying minimum water for Terra Nova construction needs also will have to be moved to a point 400-odd feet down the hillside due to subdivision construction

Council OK's Annexation; Handles Routine Matters

City Attorney Paul Hupf was instructed by the City Council Monday night to prepare an ordinance of annexation of 3.58 acres of the Olcese property, which lies south of Daly City and within the St. Francis Heights area.

Hupf will present the ordinance for its first reading at the next council meeting. It will take two readings, an adoption, plus an annexation agreement between the city and the developer, George McKeon, before the property is officially within the city, which should not be before sometime in late June. The land is uninhabited and what use is going to be made of it is unknown at this time.

The vote to proceed with annexation proceedings was made after a public hearing on the matter.

The council adopted a resolution calling for the vacating of portions of streets adjacent to Southgate avenue and South Mayfair avenue, in the general area of which the Our Lady of Mercy Hospital will be built.

In other actions the council:

Held aside for a study session June 8 a request from Joseph Jackson, San Francisco attorney, who asked for consideration by the council to abandon Estrada avenue between Templeton and Crocker avenue, to aid in a construction problem with a $100,000 multiple dwelling at Templeton and Estrada.

Set June 26 at 8 p.m. for a public hearing for the establishment of R3 zoning on property between second and third avenues on Market street.

Approved a use permit for installation of a sign for Muffler Mart, 1971 Junipero Serra Blvd.

Approved a variance permit for Danzil Willis, who request-

Charlene Haught Is First Contestant For Miss DC

Miss Charlene Haught, 16-year-old, green-eyed brownette, is the first contestant to file an application in the Miss Daly City contest.

Winner of that event will represent Daly City in the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta Dream Girl Contest July 20 and will reign over Daly City's Golden Anniversary Celebration October 7-14.

Charlene is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Haught of 184 Mirada drive. This will be her third try for a beauty title in Daly City. She was chosen as May Day Queen here eight years ago and won the beauty contest at the Daly City Multiple Listing Service picnic two years ago.

Fred Martin, chairman of the Miss Daly City contest, pointed out that preliminary judging for the event is only a week away.

He said applications have been slow in coming in and asked that friends and relatives of likely candidates urge them to participate.

Martin explained that the winner here will receive a variety of valuable prizes and will be furnished a Gold ensemble to wear at events connected with the Golden Anniversary Celebration.

New Zone Changes Bring Complaints

Two separate complaints in two different proposed zoning changes brought vigorous objections before the City Council Monday night.

One proposed zone change on two parcels of land, totaling 21 acres, owned by Callan, which lies east of and adjacent to the Westmoor High School—part of which was requested to be reclassified from R3 to R1, and another parcel from C1 to R3—brought strong verbal complaint from Mrs. Howard Wallace, 121 Del Prado drive. The Wallaces have property somewhat to the south of the high school campus and the Thomas Callan property.

The other complaint was registered by Mrs. Rose Belli, 170 First avenue, who told the council she was not objecting to rezoning of the Garibaldi property on the east corner of First and Market street from R3 to C1, but was concerned with possible deterioration of the area as a result.

In both instances, the council, after hearing the women, instructed City Attorney Paul Hupf to prepare ordinances on the proposed rezone changes, but beyond that, took no further action on the matters.

Mrs. Wallace's concern was not so much over proposed zone change of the Callan property which lies next to hers, but over the trespassing upon and cluttering up of her property by high school students. She asked the council to help save her property from further misuse.

The council informed her that

Callan Park Wants Hookup To Sewer Dist.

Owners of the controversial Callan Park Monday approached the North San Mateo County Sanitation District and requested sewage hookup for their proposed housing development by the district.

Owners Michael Callan and Thomas Callan Jr., appeared with Floyd Cornett, president of the Callan Park Water District, and their engineer, T. V. Tronoff, to make the request.

After some discussion, the board instructed the sanitation district's attorney, James T. Morton to prepare a form of resolution covering a policy and agreement for possible sewage hookup to the Callan development.

The resolution will be discussed by the board at an adjourned meeting Monday morning, and a vote as to whether the district will or will not take in Callan Park is expected, should annexation to South San Francisco fail.

The district has been informed that the Callans are eager to begin construction on some 200 homes, and before this is done, they must have sewage hookup.

Callan Park lies about two or three miles south of Daly City and lies within the servicing area of the sanitation district.

Considerable wrangling and controversy has arisen in recent weeks in South San Francisco about the proposed housing development being annexed to the city there. A vote of approval or rejection from the citizens is scheduled for August 8.

The Callan move Monday is

In keeping with the current crash Polio Drive the American Legion Broadmoor Post No. 824 will again be giving polio shots for the usual nominal fee of $1 in the music room of Benjamin Franklin School on Stewart street in Broadmoor on Saturday, June 3, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The program is open to everyone. First, second, third and booster shots will be given. Post cards will be sent as a reminder to those who have already participated in the American Legion program if they are now due for another shot.

Dick Napoletano, commander of the post and chairman of the program, reports that since Post 824 first started this program in May, 1960, nearly 5000 inoculations have been given. However, he knows there are thousands of others, particularly in the Daly City-Colma area who have not availed themselves of the program.

With the height of the polio season approaching the National Polio Foundation strongly urges all, regardless of age, to protect themselves against this dreaded disease. A series of three successive is necessary for protection from polio, followed by a yearly booster shot to insure continuing immunization.

Napoletano has this to say to anyone who has not felt it necessary to be protected from polio, "We have innoculated men, women and children ranging in age from under 1 to over 70. Polio has no regard for age or sex and can strike with its

Motion to Disband "Citizens Committee" Made at Meeting

The Citizens Committee for Good Government held their election of officers Tuesday evening, May 16, 1961 at the Ben Franklin School. The slate of officers recommended by the nominating committee was partially upheld with Leonard Bown elected to serve as vice-chairman and Mrs. Gert Green as treasurer. After being nominated from the floor, Fred Wiker was re-elected to the post of chairman and Edward O'Haire to the office of secretary. Neither were present. Conducting the meeting was Julis Castelan.

Following the election, a motion to disband the Citizens Committee for Good Government was made by Mrs. Elsie Garrison giving reasons that the organization was not living up to its constitutional requirements and expressed lack of confidence as to policy. The ensuing debate ended with a motion to table (by Tim Christian) and passed by majority, but chairman of the nominating committee (Mrs. Fern Goin) and chairman of the by-laws committee (Mrs. Elsie Garrison) both resigned. Several others followed suit.

The Citizens Committee was originally conceived during the recent annexation question and only recently met to continue their activity.

Civic Celebration Kick-off Began May 25

Old time pictures, many of them showing Daly City in its "heyday" are already on view in an elaborate display at the Skyline Shopping Center.

All this is mere warmup for the week of October 7, when such events as a fashion show, children's dancing, scout folk dancing, street dancing, a commercial garden exhibit, fireworks, an old time vaudeville and many other exciting things will take place.

Flags will decorate city streets, and for those who hold the occasion with great solemnity, all churches will offer religious services.

the matter had best be taken up by her and the Jefferson Union High School District, as the latter had jurisdiction, and could enforce a ruling much better than the city could.

Mrs. Wallace also expressed concern over exactly what Callan intended to build on the rezoned property and how would it influence her property. The council replied that at present they had no idea how the property was to be used, and that it appeared that this was a matter for her to take up with the Callans. It was suggested that she appear at a meeting of later date when Callan presents his tentative map on development of the property.

Mayor Robert St. Clair said that it is expected that about one-third is to go into residential use, and the rest into commercial use. Hupf told Mrs. Wallace that he thought much of her present problem could be alleviated by improvement of the Callan property.

Mrs. Belli said that she was not objecting to the rezoning of property on the east corner of First and Market, and in fact, she said she felt the property needed improvement, but she cautioned the council about allowing the area to become a "blight" area.

The council mentioned that long-range plans call for the construction of a shopping center on the property. Mrs. Belli said her main objection was against possible types of inferior construction, neon lights, and parking meters, which would detract from the appearance of many of the homes on First avenue as a result.

Mayor St. Clair told her that much of the type of construction that would be permitted would be controlled when use permits are issued.

He urged that owners of the property in question be informed of the complaint.

Charlene

He also called attention to a new feature of the San Mateo County Dream Girl Contest this year which will provide the winner of that event with a free trip to Washington, D.C., to present President Kennedy with a bouquet of flowers and an invitation to the San Mateo County Fair. She will go on to New York to appear on a national radio and television program.

"We think it would be particularly appropriate this year for Miss Daly City to win the county contest so that an invitation to our celebration might also be presented to the President," he said.

"The one sure way of increasing our chances of doing this," he added, "is by having a large number of contestants in our local event."

Charlene is 5 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs 110 pounds and lists her measurements as 38-24-36. Her hobby is horseback riding and music. She hopes to become a vocalist and is taking singing lessons.

Preliminary judging in the Miss Daly City contest will be held at 5 Coronado drive June 1 and final judging will be at a Queen's Dinner June 8 at the Steak Pit when Mrs. Daly City also will be named.

Winner of the Mrs. Daly City contest will help with the Golden Anniversary festivities. She will be selected from one of the residents who have lived here since the city was incorporated and will be chosen on the basis of her contributions to the outstanding growth and development of the city.

Miss Daly City application blanks and Mrs. Daly City nomination blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, 6454 Mission street.

Heard a report from City Manager Edward Frank that Daly City's civil defense programs are being prepared, and that they will be presented to the council soon.

Runge, an entrant in the junior division, won first place in the high jump, third in the broad jump, as well as third in the softball throw.

He was also a member of the George Washington relay team which took third in the relay of that division.

needs, Booth reported.

These new developments must be ironed out before further construction steps on Terra Nova can be undertaken, thus possibly delaying completion of the new school.

Superintendent Morgan underscored the district's problem:

"At the present time we have a double session at Westmoor school. By next fall, some 1350 students will be enrolled in the area. We had hoped Terra Nova would be ready by the fall, absorbing the present afternoon faculty and student body. The new Oceana school should be ready sometime around the middle of the next school year, thus splitting the 1350 students between them."

"It would be a pity," Superintendent Morgan continued, "to overburden Westmoor with the increased double session enrollment. Who knows, maybe Oceana will be ready before Terra Nova."

Architect Booth emphasized the best solution to the complex utilities problem is to seek Oddstad's approval for investment now in lands which he has not planned to develop for some years.

As this paper goes to press, a meeting is being held in the San Francisco office of Falk & Booth with numerous concerned firm representatives, including Oddstad Homes, to come to some workable solutions to the utilities problem.

Behind the utilities complicated problems is the major difficulty, Superintendent Morgan emphasized, of building in virgin lands with the subdivision technical specifications and its need to coordinate with all local utility companies such as North Coast Water District.

Nevertheless, the Terra Nova project is necessary to meet the needs of an expanding community, Morgan said, "and in a few years the school will be in the center of the Linda Mar community."

In other matters, Senior Engineer Joe Cotterell of Falk & Booth presented the architectural plans and specifications on the Jefferson Project and received unanimous approval from the board for grading during the summer session.

The grading will tear up the present ball fields except the football field and prepare the lands for construction during the fall semester.

In conjuction with this matter, the board agreed to open bids on the new Jefferson Gymnasium Friday, June 16. The gym is being designed by architect Mario Ciampi. All other building plans and specifications on the Jefferson project are being developed by Falk & Booth.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of landscaping by landscape architects Wortheim and Vanderplew. Board Trustee Elio Fontana described the proposed landscaping as "functional and beautiful."

Wortheim's presentation pointed out the combination of walkways, resting areas, playcourts, buildings and parking areas within lovely trees, lawns, and functional shrubs. Various stepped levels of planters, resting niches, and interesting vistas also were pointed out.

Wortheim felt the new plan, calling for permanent shrubs and small planting areas for 100 trees would "total less shrubbery and require less maintenance than is presently required."

In other matters, the board accepted 76 classified employees contracts (gardeners, transportation employees, and clerical employees) according to new state law.

The board retained Alfred Borelli on the sick leave list of the district, after nearly two years of treatment following his 1959 summer accident. Borelli currently is undergoing another operation, paid by workman's compensation.

The board agreed to accept some $20,000 owed to the district by the city for the development of Westmoor Park next to Westmoor School.

The board also accepted a request to incorporate a Westmoor student plaque as district property so as to obtain district insurance on the plaque.

And in response to a letter from the San Mateo County Superintendent, the Jefferson High School Board of Trustees agreed to authorize Superintendent Morgan to reply rejecting a proposal to align the school districts with Skyline Blvd., which is Route 56.

Morgan recommended to the board, "I feel that the extension and construction of Hickey Blvd. would form a natural boundary for the south side of our school district. It would

A baseball game between the men of the parish will also be staged, along with two dance contests—one for adults and another for teen-agers—and a watermelon eating contest for the children. The youngsters will also receive free ice cream and soda pop.

In addition to the contests, entertainment will be provided by a number of the Parish during an "amateur hour" which has been planned by the picnic committee.

Another added attraction for the ladies will be the rolling pin throwing contest.

SENATE PASSES BILL DESIGNED TO PROTECT HOUSE MORTGAGES

The State Senate has passed the Rollingwood-inspired S.B. 1015 which is designed to prevent some of the high house payment increases experienced by many homeowners of San Mateo County and throughout the state.

The Rollingwood Trust Fund Study Group, set up as a temporary organization within the subdivision's Homeowner's association 10 weeks ago, held six mass protest meetings because individual house payments had gone up as much as $36 a month without trust fund statements being provided.

Homeowners from South San Francisco, Daly City and Pacifica attended the meetings and participated in discussions which led to the decision to seek legislation, Round Robin Chairman Dick Griffith points out.

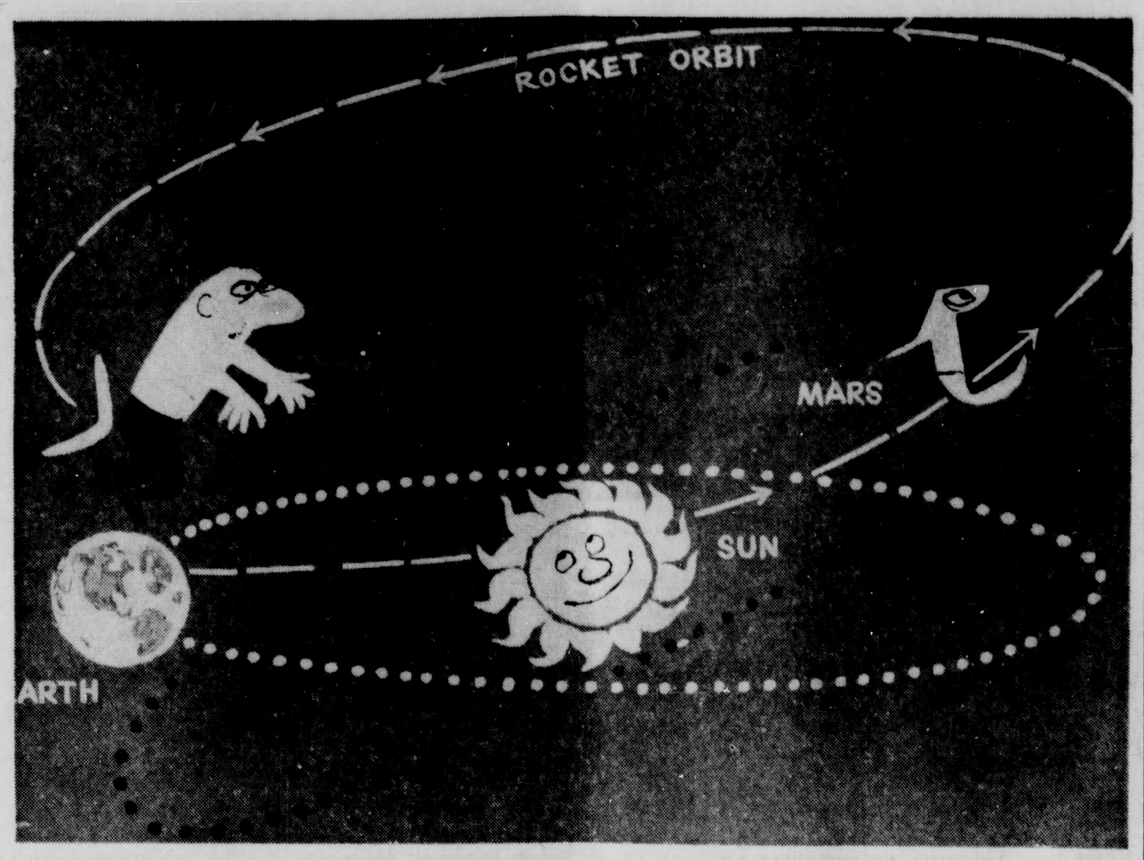
"Residents of Loma Linda and Country Club Estates in South San Francisco as well as some in Fairway Park and Linda Mar in Pacifica took active part in the legislative correspondence drive," he added. "They deserve the thanks of their communities for the beneficial anti-recession effect this measure will have."

S.B. 1015, introduced by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, provides that house payments may not be increased without an explanation of the basis of the raises, including a statement of the balance being held in trust fund accounts.

"Since an amendment to prohibit application of payments from trust funds without notification of homeowners was taken out of the bill," the Chairman stated, "It will be up to the individual homeowner to watch his own trust fund account carefully and to challenge his mortgage firm immediately on excess surpluses if they are scheduled to accumulate in his following year's payment. It is the abuse of excess surpluses which leads to the abuse of acceleration of payment without notification. Neither of these abuses are directly banned by the bill as it stands."

The Round Robin chairman revealed that, as recently as May 11 in a letter addressed to FHA and VA officials, the T. J. Bettes Company had indicated its intention to continue its policy of making payments from trust funds without notifying homeowners to skip a payment.

"We will respond to any specific request from an individual mortgagor as to the date and amount of any application of his trust funds upon a monthly payment of principal and interest," a vice-president of the firm stated in the letter, which was issued in answer to questions dictated to a stenographer by the Round Robin chairman at a hearing held in the office of FHA Regional Director Robert C. MacDuff.



LONG JOURNEY — Taking some liberties, this artist's conception depicts a non-stop round trip to Mars. Dr. Stanley Ross, mathematician at Lockheed Missiles & Space Division in Palo Alto, Calif., has prepared timetables for the best times to send a rocket round-trip to Mars and Venus. In the above illustration, the dotted white line indicates the earth's orbit, and the black dotted line belongs to Mars.

Palo Alto Professor Says November Of Next Year Good Time—Mars Trip

The 13th of November, 1962, is a good day for starting a round trip to Mars.

So says Dr. Stanley Ross, a young mathematician at the Missiles and Space Division of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. He explains that the earth and Mars will, on that date, be in the best positions fuelwise and timewise for a nonstop round trip.

Under direction of the company, which is in the forefront of missile and space travel development, 28-year-old Dr. Ross is preparing a timetable for rocket travel to the vicinity of Mars and Venus—and return.

This is a job for a mathematician, and not a pipe dream either. Companies such as Lockheed are at the stage of making detailed calculations of upcoming flights to other planets.

With the aid of computers (and of course a slide rule), the space-travel timetable maker must take into account not only vast distances, but movement of the planets and the fuel requirements, weight and speed of space vehicles.

Ross has prepared graphs which show how long it will take a rocket to swing around Mars in a long, far-out arc, and return to earth, if the rocket starts its journey on a certain day.

Studies of one-way trips to Mars and Venus have been made before. But the demand now seems to be for round trips! Even at that, there have been no requests for reservations, and Ross isn't making one for himself.

Caution: Most times are bad times for space travel. The earth and other planets are, of course, in constant motion, at great speeds, on different orbits. After November of 1962, the next suitable period for a round trip to Mars is November and December of 1964, and not again until December-January of 1966-67.

A good time for a Venus round trip recently passed — December through February of 1960-61. Future journeys to Venus and return may be made under most suitable astronomical conditions June through September in 1962, February through April in 1964, and September through December in 1965.

Assuming that a rocket of presently developed speed and fuelcarrying ability were used, departure on November 13, 1962 would bring the rocket to Mars in 150 days, which would be on April 12 of 1963. Passing by Mars, as planned, the rocket would gradually swing back toward the earthly orbit and return home on November 15, 1964—a trip of exactly two years.

Mars ranges from 50 million to 250 million miles from earth, and Venus from 30 million to 170 million.

In his job of timetabling, Dr. Ross is not actually concerned with whether his rockets carry passengers. He is concerned only with distances, speeds, times, and weight and fuel requirements. His figures would not be altered whether the "payload" of a rocket were a 150-pound instrument or a 150-pound man.

It will be several years before a man is sent to Mars or Venus. He may actually stop on the planet then, or take up station in orbit. Business or vacation trips will be still later!

Man-aboard or not, Dr. Ross' present timetable task is the same. He must know the ability of his rockets, and then figure the speed and direction of the earth and the other planet involved.

Throwing a rocket around Mars or Venus and bringing it back is like tossing a boomerang and on a dead run and successfully retrieving it in the air without the runner's changing his course or speed.

The entire flight must be calculated mathematically in order to determine the proper time and direction of launch. The rocket trips being charted by Dr. Ross are for rockets uncontrolled from earth, but which depend on thrust and gravity alone for their course.

Why timetables for only Mars and Venus? Because, says Ross, we will be concerned for the next 10 years mainly with these neighboring planets. Round trip schedules for other planets can be figured later using the same methods.

Letters To The Editor

Several Resign

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

It has come to our attention that the Citizens Committee for Good Government was registered via the February 14, 1961 issue of the Burlingame-Star Advocate as "Fred Walker transacting business under the fictitious name of Citizen-Defender and/or Citizens Committee for Good Government, and is sole proprietor of said business."

This was done without the knowledge or consent of the membership. Recently the Citizen Defender was printed and circulated, sponsoring candidates for the School Board, also without majority action.

Therefore we do not feel we can support any group operating in such a manner and wish to publicly withdraw and have in fact resigned.

Yours truly,
Elsie M. Garrison, Lou Eldredge, Paul Majourau, Evelyn Majourau, Rodney G. Eldredge, Richard E. Raso, Mrs. Stephen Goin Jr.

Old Glory Thanks Press For Stories

Dear Editor:

Many thanks to you, and your wonderful staff, for the wonderful coverage given Old Glory Post No. 2044 and its Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, during my tenure as publicity chairman for Old Glory Ladies Auxiliary No. 2044 of the V.F.W. for the past two years. The Post and Auxiliary, as well as myself, have been most appreciative of the splendid co-operation we have received.

I am certain Mrs. Louise Crowley, publicity chairman for 1961-62, will enjoy in the coming year the same wonderful co-operation I have appreciated so much.

As a very satisfied subscriber to the Daly City Record, I wouldn't feel my week complete without a copy of your paper. I am sincerely looking forward to the day we will have a BIGGER paper, it simply COULDN'T BE BETTER!

Again, a very warm "thank you!"

With every kind wish to you, and your very nice staff, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,

CHP Commander Warns Drivers About U-Turns

Ignorance as to the proper Place to make U-turns apparently is causing a number of motorists to violate the law, Captain John W. Kennedy, commander of the California Highway Patrol's Redwood City Area, said this week.

"U-turns are not permitted at any intersection controlled by traffic signals unless a sign is posted allowing such turns," he said.

"In residential districts, U-turns may be made at intersections or at midblock. In the latter case, the turn is permissible only if approaching vehicles are more than 200 feet away. In business districts, U-turns may be made at non-signalized intersections unless signs prohibit them.

"On the open highway U-turns are not permitted on grade crests or curves where cars cannot be seen for 200 feet in each direction."

Captain Kennedy emphasized that U-turns are never legal in front of fire stations. "And on divided highways, make U-turns only at openings in the divider strip or curb. Never cross the curb or dividing section to make a U-turn."

Pacifica Nursery Will Present Open House

The Pacifica Nursery School will hold its final Open House of the school semester Friday morning from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church of Pacifica, 610 Edgemar avenue, Pacific Manor.

Parents are invited to attend the open house or to telephone Mrs. Patricia Kennison at Elmwood 9-1739 to arrange an appointment to visit the nursery.

The school is a non-profit, non-sectarian cooperative sponsored by the Adult Education Division of the Jefferson Union High School District. The school accepts children from 33 months to kindergarten age.

Applications are currently being accepted for enrollment next fall.

Seismologists estimate more than a million earthquakes occur each year.

Study Points Up Parking Problems

If you take less than 32 seconds to maneuver your car into a parallel parking place, don't be embarrassed, you're doing better than average.

This fact came to light during a study of the respective merits of parallel and angle parking by a graduate student in transportation engineering at the University of California, Berkeley.

Bryan K. Johnston found that each of the two systems have both advantages and disadvantages in heavily traveled metropolitan areas.

Parking in angle stalls causes little or no obstruction to traffic, but an average of 12 seconds is needed to back out of a stall and begin moving forward. This maneuver is more dangerous than any involving parallel parking because of the limited visibility available to the driver.

While Johnston found that 32 seconds was the average parking time for parallel stalls, this time varied greatly depending on the ability of the driver. Some people can execute this maneuver in less than seven seconds while others make repeated attempts, taking as long as 100 seconds.

The average width of street space used in pulling in and out of the two types of parking places was 26 feet for angle parking and 18 feet for parallel parking.

According to the report, drivers have learned, presumably from experience, to keep their distance from angle-parked cars. Passing motorists stayed about five feet from cars parked at an angle to the curb, and only three feet from parallel parked cars.

A street with parallel parking, said Johnston, can accommodate up to two more lanes of traffic than it can with angle parking. The latter, however, has the advantage of accommodating more cars per unit of curb space—up to two and a half times as many, depending on the angle at which they are parked.

Social Night Set For SSF Democrats

Ruth Burke, vice-president of the South San Francisco Democratic Club and in charge of the club's programs and social events, announced this week that the June 1 meeting of the club will be strictly social. The meeting will be held at 724 Almond Ave., South San Francisco.

Deluxe Dwellings Given Board OK For Linda Mar

The Pacifica Planning Commission recently approved final plans for two 8-unit deluxe garden apartment houses, each valued at $72,000, for the Linda Mar District.

The two structures will be on Adobe drive, just south of the Sanchez Adobe Museum. The architect is John Bauman of San Francisco. The owner is B. C. Bacigalupi of San Francisco. The contractor has not been selected as yet.

Work on the project is expected to begin within 30 days, according to Bacigalupi. Completion date is not known.

After a number of weeks of negotiating, the commission agreed to allow a deviation from the usually-permitted five units for the 250 foot frontage property to build eight units, providing the owner add certain features.

Bacigalupi will provide several play areas for children, a 40 ft. wide backyard, barbecue pits, a parking space of 1½ to 1, soundproofing within the buildings, balconies to apartments, and other such features.

The commission discussed final plans for providing additional parking space at the Linda Mar Shopping District to meet the needs of the new W. T. Grant & Co. store, extension of the present Purity Market, and construction of several other stores in the area, but took no formal action, holding the matter over until the next meeting.

TO CUT LAWN

There are places in this mysterious world of ours where it takes more than a lawn mower and a lot of ambition to cut a lawn.

Over in Britain, according to the National Automobile Club, a Briton got himself a gasoline lawn mower and a lot of ambition and set out to cut his lawn.

Before he could do so, however, the authorities interfered. They demanded that he pass a test on the highway code and then cut two patches of grass to prove his skill. Only after he had done this would they give him a license and turn him loose on the lawn.

Officers Elected By Edison PTA

New officers were installed and important aspects of education for the elementary school child were discussed at a recent meeting of the Thomas Edison PTA.

Mrs. Joseph C. Brandi Jr. was installed new president of the elementary school Parent-Teachers Association, with Mrs. Robert Woodworth elected vice-president and Harry Aronson honorary vice-president.

Among important topics discussed were child behavior in home and school, homework, health, emotional factors of the pre-adolescent, and how PTA can be more effective.

Guest panelists who responded to questions asked by parents included Guidance Consultant of Jefferson Elementary School District Lowell Jennings, Historian of 17th District PTA Mrs. Arthur Huelse, School Nurse Mrs. C. Tamly, and representative teachers of Thomas Edison School: Mrs. E. Nyhan, Mrs. R. Hillman, Miss J. Lester, Mrs. H. Vinnick, William Jonas, and Principal Harry Aranson. Mrs. Joseph Brandi Jr., Thomas Edison PTA president, was the moderator.

During the short business meeting, Mrs. Robert Woodworth, newly-elected vice-president, gave a report on the recent annual California State PTA convention in Los Angeles, which she attended as representative of Thomas Edison PTA.

Mrs. Arthur Huelse, historian of the 17th District PTA, conducted a colorful Rainbow Installation of the newly elected officers, in which corsages and boutonnaires in the appropriate color for the officer were presented to each new official by Mrs. Heulse.

In addition to Mrs. Brandi Jr. as president, vice-president Mrs. Woodworth and Aronson as honorary vice-president, the following also were elected officers during the meeting:

Mrs. Ernest Draves, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald Leitck, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward Jose, financial secretary; Mrs. Robert O'Connor, treasurer; Rulon Scoville, auditor; Mrs. Deryl Sherman, historian, and Mrs. James E. Freeman, parliamentarian.

State Motorists Neglect To Make Address Change

Many California motorists neglect to change the address on their driver's license, Robert McCarthy, state DMV director said this week.

At the recent Hollywood Hills fire, only residents of the area were allowed to enter the area for several days. Law enforcement and fire officials had considerable trouble with persons claiming to live in the area that had not changed their addresses after moving.

Address changes should be made within 10 days, McCarthy explained. This can be done easily at any DMV or Highway Patrol office. There is no fee for this change.

The local office is located in Westlake at 199 Southgate ave. Phone number is PL 5-9195.

Another method is to note the address change on the back of your license and notify in writing the Dept. of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento. Be sure and include in the notification both the old and new addresses and the license number.

Engineer Offers Reading List for Young Space Fans

"I would like to know how to make a rocket. I would like some plans if you have any, please. How high is the sky? How much gas would it take to get to space?

"I would also like to know how big a space suit is, please. There is one more thing I would like to know. How big is a space station, please? I am 10 years old. Thank you from Bill Thomas."

The note from the Grand Rapids, Mich., space fan is fairly typical of the letters arriving regularly at the UCLA Department of Engineering for Dr. John Lyman, the 40-year-old engineer and psychologist who heads the University's Biotechnology Laboratory.

An expert on human space flight, Dr. Lyman answers each letter personally and in addition has compiled the following practical reading list for 10 to 14-year-old youngsters interested in jets, rockets, missiles and space travel.

Classroom or School Library Books: "You and Science" by Paul F. Brandwein (Harcourt, Brace and Co.). "Exploring the Earth and Space"; and "Physical Science, A Basic Course" by John C. Hogg (D. Van Nostrand Co.) "Jets, Rockets and Missiles."

Books Recommended for Home Libraries: "Experiments in the Principles of Space Travel" by Franklyn M. Branley (Thomas Y. Crowell Co.); "Going Into Space" by Arthur C. Clarke (Harper and Bros.); and "Complete Book of Space Travel" by Albro T. Gaul (World Publishing Co.).

By MONA BAKER

Been wishing for a mink coat, or perhaps a vacation for two to Guatemala—or how about a new hi-fi set? Well, just tune to KQED (June 6-9, 4 p.m. to midnight) and bid on these items as well as other exciting and valuable merchandise during the station's 7th annual television auction. For the past several months teams of volunteers have been collecting the merchandise from leading merchants around the Bay Area to auction off at the annual money-raising event.

According to "KQED in Focus" (their monthly publication) this year's event promises to be the "largest, wackiest and most successful in history." Leading personalities in sports, politics, entertainment, business, serving as auctioneers will give the popular community channel a "helping hand" in order to assure that this year's event will be a success.

If you have ever attended auctions you know how exciting they can be, and this one you can attend right in the comfort of your own home. Best of all, you too are giving a "helping hand" to KQED which brings hours of pleasure to your family with outstanding television programs.

Prediction by NBC official James Nelson in an address at Ohio State University's Institute for Education by Radio-Television, that there will be "a great flood of non-fiction programs" in TV within the next decade, is good news indeed. Certainly this season's offering of public affairs programs and documentaries have been outstanding, and the networks are planning increased time for such programs during the fall. Again we would like to remind you, do write sponsors and stations when you enjoy a particular program — your opinion does carry weight.

Good news too from KRON-TV who announce that they have expanded their news coverage through subscribing to NBC's recently instituted "electronic news service." The new service increases Channel Four's ability to give same-day coverage to news stories, and if stories are of major significance they will be telecast locally as special programs.

Beermann of 86 Parkwood drive, all of Daly City, are serving with the First Marine Division from Camp Pendleton, Calif., participating in Phase III of "Exercise Green Light" off the Coast of California.

Scheduled from May 8 to June 8, this phase of the exercise involves Navy and Marine Corps undersea, surface, air and ground forces, supported by minesweepers of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Highlight of the operation will be a large scale amphibious landing by the First Marine Division in the Camp Pendleton, Calif., area. The landing force will be suported by an amphibious task force and air craft.

County Presents Swim Programs

More than 25 public agencies, 21 private agencies, and 2,240 individual families are providing swimming areas, pools and facilities, and in many cases programs of instruction, for the summer leisure time of youngsters and adults of San Mateo County.

San Mateo County Parks and Recreation Department's summer swimming got under way at Flood Park last Saturday, the Coyote Point Beach Lifeguard service began with weekend service only until school is out, and then daily service during the summer months.

Earl Crockett of Menlo Park is the Beach Manager, and Dan Lynch and Ralph Whitten of San Mateo are lifeguards.

The Memorial Park swimming facilities are developed by damming the Pescadero Creek which flows through the park. The opening at Memorial Park is planned for the Memorial Day weekend.

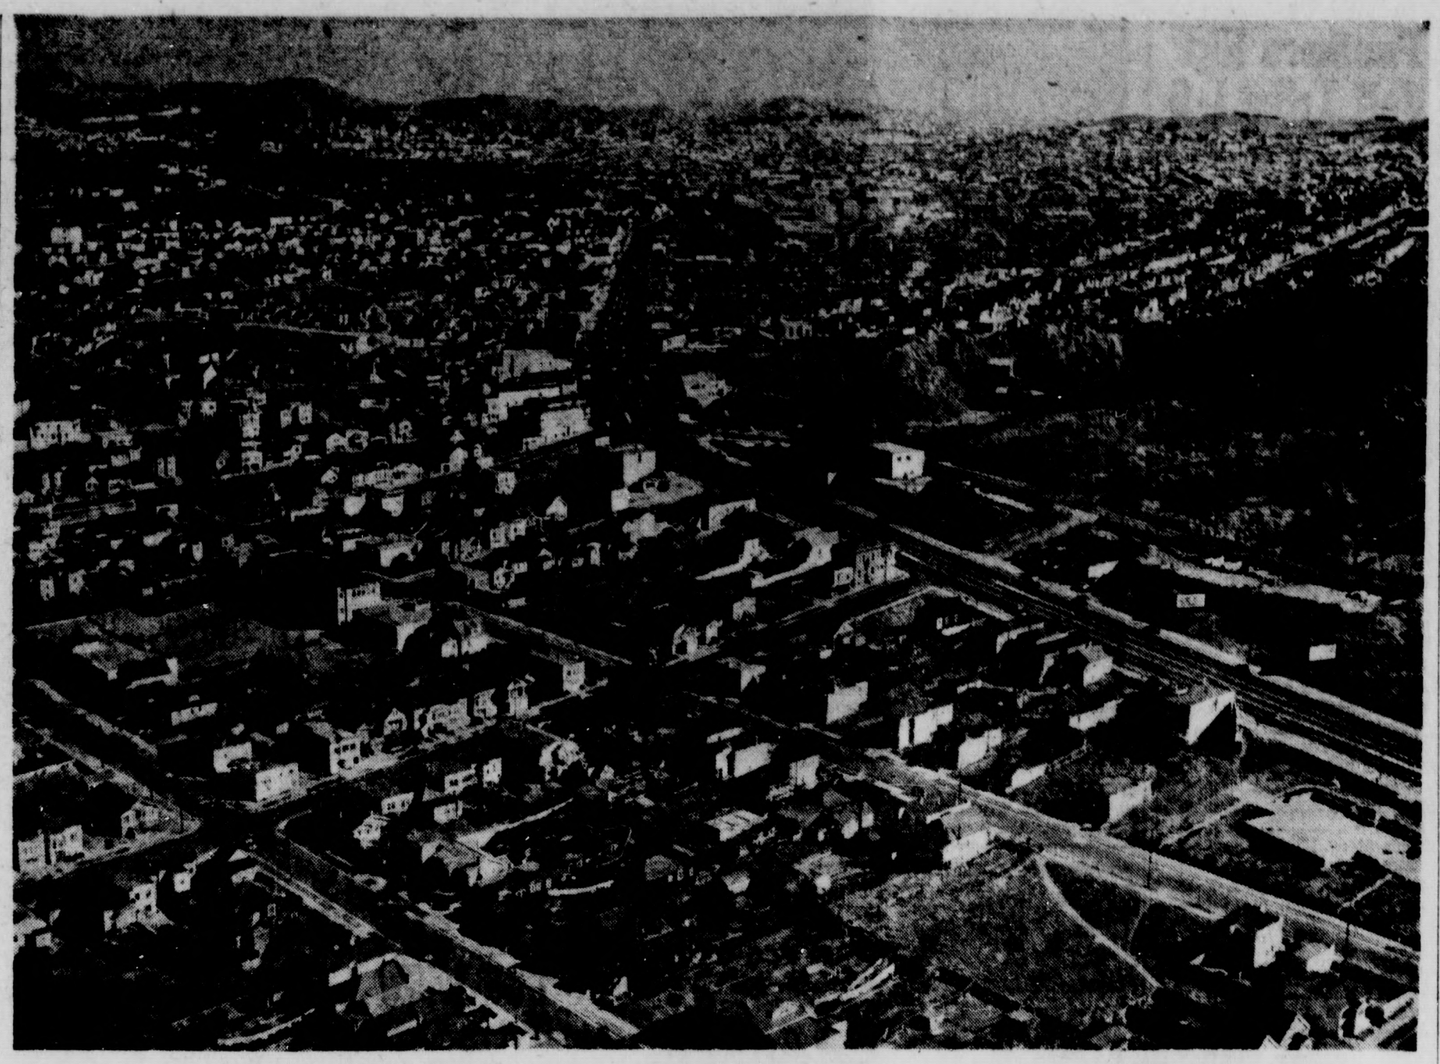
The American Red Cross is coordinating and cooperating with all the education agencies and recreation agencies to provide swimming instruction and safety practices and procedures for the thousands of swimmers in the county.

In Daly City the Jefferson High School pool is used by youngsters from Pacifica, Brisbane and Bayshore as well as Daly City. Approximately eight family private pools are located here. Pacifica residents will have a pool in September at the High School in Linda Mar. The City of Pacifica youngsters are transported to the Jefferson High School.

South San Francisco High School provides summer Red Cross programs and recreational swimming. About four private family swimming pools are located here.

Over 1,071 pools are located throughout the unincorporated areas of the county. The YMCA's have pools in their camps near La Honda and Pescadero. The Pescadero Creek is dammed for swimming in Portola State Park and in Memorial Park. The Pacific Ocean beaches in San Mateo County are unsafe for swimming.

The "Kwan" note issued in China in 1368 A.D. was made from the bark of a mulberry tree and is approximately the size of a sheet of typewriter paper.



100 YEARS of progress in only 50 is an apt slogan for the city's forthcoming Golden Jubilee observance when one looks at this aerial picture of Daly City taken back in 1938 when even Smith's Quarry was still active (upper right). This shot, taken by aerial photographer D. A. Hovey, looks north along Mission street past the "top of the hill" and into San Francisco. Note the sparse development along Mission street to the south, plus the numerous areas that were completely undeveloped a scant 23 years ago. Just below the quarry is the spot where the War Memorial Building now stands and, in betwecu, the new Mormon Church. Photo is by courtesy of Fahey Realty.

Refreshments were later served.

The girls and their leaders are Vonda Crouse, Patricia Nichols, Linda Palmer, Linda Pfitzer, Roseann Yeadon, Linda Floyd, Jeanne Scourkes, Mrs. G. N. Scourkes, guardian, and Mrs. William E. Floyd, assistant guardian. The parents who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nichols, Mrs. Estelle Palmer, Mrs. H. A. Mrs. Cox To Speak To Library Friends

As their last program for this year of the Thursday Matinee Book Review series, Friends of the Library will present Mrs. Georgia Cox, reference librarian with the San Mateo County Library.

The Book Review will be held May 25 at the Westlake Bowl, 10 a.m. until 11:30. Coffee will be served, courtesy of the Bowl, and the Friends invite all who are interested to attend.

Mrs. Cox has worked in various libraries, including the American Library in Paris, prior to her present position. She studied music in college and now plays the 'cello with the Peninsula Symphony Orchestra.

She plans to review in depth Gavin Maxwell's "Ring of Bright Water," which is his account of his life with two pet otters in the Highlands of Scotland. In addition, she will touch briefly on Lederer and Burdick's recent "A Nation of Sheep," and, time permitting, some suggested light summer reading.

Baby sitting service will be provided.

Soil Is Key To Top Garden; Need For Humus

The sooner a gardener comes to terms with his soil, the greener will be his garden. For if there is one secret to that proverbial green thumb, we'd like to submit that it lies underground.

A few gardeners seen to realize this instinctively, but most learn the hard way. They watch a neighbor's garden flourish and wonder why theirs comes to naught despite the fact that we planted the same thing from the same flat at the same time. Most gardeners use about half the fertilizer they should use.

The obvious answer is lack of food, but just adding fertilizer doesn't always work. The problem is more basic than that, and it lies in the condition of the soil. Perhaps the soil is too compact to make food readily available. Or perhaps it's too sandy and loose and what food we add is hurriedly leached out. The answer to either problem is spelled H-U-M-U-S.

Proper humus content makes all the difference in soil condition. Humus loosens compacted clay soils, improves drainage and makes water or food available. Conversely, it bulks up sandy soils and enables them to hold moisture and food long enough for the plant to take them up.

Humus is organic matter that is slowly breaking down. You can make it by composting leaves, grass clippings and other vegetable refuse. Better yet, you can get it in the form of animal manures, leaf mold, cottonseed meal and other preparations from a local California Association of Nurserymen member. If we had to choose only one, we'd probably take peat moss, but all have their place and the soil-wise gardener will learn where and when to use them.

With severely compacted soils, one or another of the commercial soil conditioners will give you a head start, but don't rely entirely on them alone. Use them in conjunction with humus building materials for best results. The combination can do wonders even on the poorest of poor soils.

Skyline Plaza Merchants Announce "Get Acquainted" Event Awards

Planning a camping trip this summer?

The merchants of Skyline Plaza will help make that camping trip a success for some lucky family who proves to be the top winner in their "Get Acquainted" event which goes on through June.

Their first award, which they will give away on the evening of June 30 at 9 p.m., is a $500 J. C. Higgins Camper-trailer; a lightweight aluminum trailer with its own heavy army duck tent built right into it. The Camper-trailer is just about the easiest possible way to go camping. The trailer hitches right onto the car and one man can pitch the tent in a matter of minutes. The tent has a 7' x 7' sewn-in floor area, plus a 48 x 80 sleeping compartment with mattress.

So that there will be more than one lucky set of winners for the Skyline Plaza Get Acquainted contest, there are to be 14 additional awards given away, headed by a portable TV set. Individual merchants within the center will give the remaining thirteen prizes, which will be announced during the course of the contest.

Drawing tickets are available free at any store in Skyline Plaza, commencing on Wednesday, May 24. While the winners must be present at the time of the drawing, tickets are available without purchase, for the asking. The rules of the contest limit it to persons 18 years of age or over, and restrict store owners and their employees from participating in the contest.

The new Skyline Plaza Shopping facility will, during the course of the "Get Acquainted" event, open several new stores, including Bill Adams Realty, a Coffee Shop and Ice Cream Store, a Delicatessen and the Medical Dental Building. Already open are the Market, Liquor Store, Pharmacy, Beauty Salon, Barber Shop, Hardware Store, Paint Store, TV Store, Cleaner and Bakery.

To accomodate evening shoppers, Skyline Plaza stores will remain open evenings until 9 o'clock.

BENEFITS CHECK IS IMPORTANT; CALLS WELCOMED

Is your Social Security record correct? If you don't know, Mrs. Mercia Leton Kahn, District Manager of the San Francisco Social Security Office has some advice on how to find out, and why it is important to do so.

It is really very easy to verify your Social Security record, Mrs. Kahn points out. In fact, it is so easy, she suggests that everyone examine his record every three years. All you need to do is call, write, or visit your nearest Social Security Office and ask for a postcard form on which to request a statement of the earnings reported to your Social Security account. Fill out the postcard form, stamp it, and mail it.

You will receive a statement in a few weeks telling you what earnings have been posted to your account. If the statement does not agree with your records, take it and your own records to your Social Security Office so that steps can be taken to get your Social Security account corrected.

It is important that your records be correct for two reasons: It is used to determine whether you have worked long enough for you or your survivors to be eligible for Social Security payments upon your retirement, disability, or death. If you have worked long enough to be insured, your earnings are then averaged to determine the amount of the Social Security check payable to you and your family.

Something About Sports

By JIM KALLENBACH

Ol' man weather plays no favorites. Over this past weekend, he showed he certainly didn't have the local sports scene at heart. Friday afternoon's PL game between Westmoor and South City had to be called off because of a muddy diamond. This was a real disappointment because this was a key game that could have spelled out the name of the PL winner, as if anyone didn't already know how to spell Westmoor. . . .

The two teams will get another chance, however, to swat it out against each other on the 31st on their diamond as a makeup game. . . .

Rain on Saturday brought the same kind of luck to the Daly City League juniors. Heavy precipitation forced the cancellation not of one game but eight! Recreation Department officials say that it has thrown their summer schedule off by a week. The summer program, originally scheduled to end on June 28, probably will have to be extended to Saturday, July 1. Weather permitting, there may be a couple of Sunday games, also. The rain's toll effected three games that had been scheduled for Marchbanks Park, three for Jefferson, and two on the Colma diamond. . . .

Slim, pert Pat Marks, a junior all-star bowler from the Westlake lanes, recently proved that bowling just wasn't for the men only. She captured top honors in the Miss Fremont Bowl Tournament. She will journey to the Fremont alleys Saturday to be crowned and receive the award. Pat is a soph at Westmoor, plans to go to San Jose State and for a career as a legal secretary.

In the two years she has been in the league, she has acquired a high game of 241 and a high series of 634. . . .

As this PL season draws to a close, there probably are very few of us who are too concerned about the line-up for next year's PL season, but it is interesting to note that both local ball clubs are going to take big losses manpower-wise come graduation day. Most of the outstanding players of this season are seniors, but both teams have some very promising juniors to fill in the gaps.

At Jefferson, Coach Steve Mezzera will have only six of his boys back. They are Rich Reitz, Bob Miller, Mike Rovai, Al Cacicedo, Bob Brush, and Danny Luciano. Hitter Reitz and Pitcher Miller should make an especially strong duo.

Going crosstown to Westmoor, Coach Ron Losberger says he will also have some new faces around, along with some of the established ones. There will be catcher Steve Payette, Steve Funai, Scott Shackelford, Mike Daniels, and pitchers Jerry Gore and Tim Pinnelli, who haven't had much of a chance this season to chuck the ball.

Jeff baseballer Tom McEntee not only excels on the diamond, but is apparently something of an orator too. He has won an award for KCBS for being the outstanding caller on the program "Student Viewpoint." Besides sports, Tom is interested in law and government, and those are two subjects in which one has to be well versed in these days. . . .

That's 30 for now. . . .

Panthers Nip Jeff Tribe 1-0

The Burlingame Panthers nosed ahead of the Jefferson Indians by one run Tuesday afternoon in a PL game to dump the tribesmen 1-0. The game was played on the Burlingame diamond.

It was more sad news for Jefferson, who as of this writing, are now placed third in PL standings behind Westmoor, South San Francisco, and a tie with Mills. Jeff now claims a 7-5 record. Definitely gone is the chance of taking the PL championship this season, but definitely there is spirit.

Jeff and Burlingame played a tight game all the way, amounting to a real pitcher's duel between Jeff's Bob Miller and Burlingame's Tom Betts. Each team received four hits. Burlingame had no hits up to sixth inning, but got three in the seventh and one w[illegible] to take the game.

W'lake Food Center Loses To QFI, 4-1

QFI Market of Buri Buri defeated Westlake Food Center, 4-1, Monday evening in the second of the three-game series of the Super Market League. The game was played at Westmoor Park.

Westlake Food Center won the first game with QFI recently, and now with a win tallied for QFI, the series could go to either team. The next game is tentatively scheduled for the latter part of next week.

Winning pitcher was Irv Achizer, who had nine strikeouts and pitched no-hit ball. QFI's Pat Lena hit a homer to drive in two runs. QFI got two hits.

WINNERS were many at the recently held Westlake Kennel Dog Show. Above we have the canine that took the Best Dog of the Show award, and his name is Sir Lancelot of Silver Crest, a Bedlington terrier, owned by Mrs. W. W. Coovert of Burlingame. Rams Bow To Cap 8-4 In PL Duel

Fourth-place Capuchino High handed the Westmoor Rams their second defeat of the PL season Tuesday afternoon with a smashing 8-4 victory on their diamond.

There was no question, however, but what the Rams were still in first spot in the league and headed toward a certain championship. There record has been somewhat tainted in the past two weeks with unexpected losses. Earlier in the season it looked as though there was no team that could stop them. The Bearcats of San Mateo and the Mustangs of San Bruno proved otherwise.

The Mustangs lost no time and in the second inning scored five runs. Tom Haxton led off with a single to left and with one out, Mike Bunker singled to right scoring Haxton, who had stolen second. Wally Bunker walked and stole second, putitng runners on second and third. But Dennis Dorris struck out.

Steve Barry topped a ground ball to third baseman Bill Hix, who made a nice fielding play on the ball, but threw wide at first, allowing both Bunkers to score from second and third and Barry to score to second on the throw.

Bill Forest hit a curving line single to left field, which got by Cornell Holmes, allowing Forest to go all way around, scoring Barry in front of him.

Bob Jacobson struck out to end the inning, thus four of the five runs of the inning were unearned. Capuchino scored another unearned run in the fourth when Doug Moyer led off with a walk.

Westmoor scored three runs in the fifth when Chris Hanson led off with a walk, and with one out Terry Christman walked to put runners on first, and second.

With two out, Barry Krohn tripled deep to left center. Krohn, in turn, scored on a single to right by Cornell Holmes. Westmoor scored the final run in the seventh, when Christman led off with a line double down the right field line.

It was Pitcher Barry Krohn's first loss this season in a PL game. He has a record of 5-1.

Line Score

Capuchino	015-110-0—8
Westmoor	000-000-1—4

Capuchino: eight runs, seven hits, no errors.

Westmoor: four runs, seven hits, three errors.

SSF Demo Leader Is Drive Chairman

F. J. de Larios, president of the South San Francisco Democratic Club, has named Frank Wortenberg as South San Francisco chairman of the annual "Dollars for Democrats" drive.

To be held in the fall, the drive has as its underlying idea that for 10,000 persons to contribute $1 each to their party is better than to have one person contribute $10,000, according to Wortenberg.

750 ENTRANTS TAKE PART IN DOG SHOW

Westlake Kennel Club provided a day with the judges for more than 750 entrants at a well attended dog show in Daly City recently.

The top honors went to a Bedlington Terrier named Sir Lancelot of Silver Crest. This honor was bestowed on Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coovert of 1412 El Camino Real, Burlingame, by Judge Alice Jeffrey.

The best puppy in the show was Double Star's Star Chief, a black Cocker spaniel, owned by Bernice and Robert E. Lee of Lafayette. Judge Alice Jeffrey made the choice.

The local award (for residents of San Mateo Co.) went to Man-Terr's Little Sugar, a Manchester Terrier owned by Mrs. Evelyn E. Edwards, of San Mateo. This dog was handled by Petter C. Rank. The judge was John Davidson.

The local Challenge Trophy (for residents of San Mateo Co. and handled by the owner or a member of his immediate family) went to a Cairn Terrier—less than one half the size of the trophy. This decision was rendered to the delighted owners, Andrew and Wilda Carrino of Millbrae, by Judge John Davidson.

Top Obedience Honors went to Miniature Poodle Fiddler's Green Lyric owned by Frank and Esther Scherf of San Francisco. Judge Beverly Goebel scored the dog perfect with a score of 200.

Practice may not make perfect, but it sure helps—says Ted De Friese of the De Friese Venetian Blinds team. Throughout the 30-week season of the Mayfair Strike League, Ted has been a consistent 142 average "fun" bowler. Entering the last week of the season, the team needed three victories to move into first place and take the championship. Being a true team player, Ted came out over the weekend for a practice session and one the final night of league bowling shot an all-time high of 598 to help his team win the title.

Resident Certified Instructor Dick Truesdell has come up with the latest ideas for beginner bowlers—a "Noon Sweepstakes" and "Evening Instruction." Each Monday to Friday at noon he will hold a two-game Sweepers with instruction.

The evening session will be held at 9 p.m. on Mondays with lanes being reserved for the class.

Powder Puff Queen for May is Joan Gisler, whose 673 series including handicap won her first prize. Second place went to Connie Devlin, a newcomer from Sacramento, who shot 635 while Milli Belli's 598 took third place honors for her. Kathleen Mahony shot a 184 game to take the high game prize.

Next Saturday at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. the opening squads will shoot in our first annual "Family Doubles" Tournament. Already there have been many family combinations signed for the opening day.

Another consistent bowler made the big jump last week as Al Ertassi, who had maintained a steady 173 average for 81 games, shot his first 200 game with a banging 204.

Semi-finals in the Westlake House Championships will be held next Saturday as the top 25 per cent fight for the eight places in the final round.

Jimmy Drummond continued to lead the Bantam Singles Division as the Northern California Junior Championship entered its final weekend.

As the leagues come to an end and champions receive trophies, there is a world of newsworthy stories buried in the statistics. Addo-X team winning on the final day, Esther's Beauty Salon and Mission Pride Market ending in a tie necessitating a roll-off, etc. Corinne Riccomi, Angie Sereni, Flo Janson and Alice Masini came through with flying colors (purple) to win the roll-off over Jean Kelly, Marge Zukowski and Adelaide Schmierer.

Advance signup has been extremely heavy for the new Father and Son League, which will start with an organizational meeting Sunday, June 11, at 9:15 a.m.

Portola Upholstery team of the Mayfair Strike League were the winners of the Westlake Champion of Champions Eliminations and will represent Westlake in the City Finals, June 3, at Marina Bowl.

SUMMER BASEBALL IS HERE! TEAM SCORES ARE LISTED

On Tuesday, summer baseball returned to Daly City.

This year his followers include more than 600 boys in the Daly City Department of Recreation Leagues. The Midget Leagues consists of 18 teams, divided into two divisions (Westmoor Division and Jefferson Division). The Junior League is comprised of 13 teams engaged in Round Robin play.

In the opening game of the Westmoor Division, the OLM Cubs took the Umpire's cry "play ball" to heart. A big triple by Dean Duryea and a team effort at bat, and in the field combined to win over the Misracks Mustangs 11-6. Outstanding for the Mustangs was the defensive play of Carl Campos and the plate work of Ray Avendano (2 for 2).

At Marchbanks that same evening, the Holy Angels Lions downed the OLPH Midgets 7-3. Larryn Naninni tossed a 3 hit game for the Lions. Lion Mike Gallagher racked up 4 RBI's with one double and three singles in 4 times at the plate. Chelone (OLPH) struck out 10 Holy Angels batters while Naninni KO'd 11.

The following evening opened the Jefferson Division play. Hard hitting Huges Texaco smashed out 11 hits for 9 runs to over power the Misracks Cardinals 9-2.

The BYA Tigers led by Joe Farrell pitching (11K's), Barry Perrone defensive play and Jenot De Nalder bat (2 for 3), won over the Holy Angels Colts 6-1.

E. Williams, BYA Blazers ran into a 3 to 3 tie because of darkness. In the process of registering this tie, he struck out 14 men. The PAL Giants on the other end of the 3 to 3 tie, had only two hits as opposed to 7 for the Blazers. The Giants get credit for good defensive effort.

Paul Pacci put in a fine performance in the field and at bat as the PAL Yankees defeated the Art Colvin BYA Midgets, 7-4. Pacci made two great catches and turned them into double plays witth strike like throws from the outfield. At the plate Pacci hit 3 for 4.

In the Junior League, Art Colvin BYA Jrs. opened with an easy win over the BYA Falcons, 8-2.

John Volis of South Sunset threw a one hit ballgame as his team downed the Misracks Jrs., 4-2.

Another great pitching performance was turned in as Androde of D & S Lumber chalked up a one hitter when his team defeated Tower Market, 7-2.

Paul Clayton and the strong Daly City Drugs team held the Visitation Jrs. to two hits, as they nailed up Visitation, 6-0.

OLPH Jrs. turned three errors and one hit into four runs in a cliff hanger as they edged out the OLM Jrs., 4-3. Nolan of OLPH hit the single that accounted for the winning runs.

Richie Heintz of Parkmerced, registered a two-hitter against New Pisa with his team winning 8-2. Heintz was assisted in his win by the big bats of Jeff Portnay and Bob Verbarg. Portnoy hit a triple with the bases loaded in the 6th inning. Verbarg hit a double and triple in three trips to the plate. Center fielder, Dough Boston cut off a New Pisa rally in the 2nd inning with a two on and one out situation. Boston made a fine catch and a great throw to the catcher for a double play.
